LIQUID AIR POWER.

INTERESTING EXPERIMENT MADE BY A SCIENTIST.

He Shows That at 320 Degrees Below
It Could Do Great Things.

WASHINGTON, March 25, 1899.

The guests of the National Geographic society after its annual reception on Wednesday night were entertained by Charles E. Tripler, of New York, the inventor of liquid air.

Mr. Tripler had brought from his laboratory in an ordinary vessel not unlike a milk can 10 gallons of liquid air at a temperature of three hundred and twenty degrees below zero. This was brought into the banquet room at the Arlington Hotel, where the audience was assembled, and many of the experiments which have lately startled the scientific world were repeated.

Mr. Tripler was introduced by Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone. A large number of distinguished scientists gathered to witness his experiments, and in the audience were the German and Russian Ambassadors, the Chinese Minister and a large number of the most distinguished people in Washington.

Mr. Tripler first exhibited the liquid air by passing around the audience thin dippers filled with it. These gave off a vapor like steam and rapidly accumulated frost from the ceiling. After the audience had finished the inspection, Mr.
Tripler struck the dippers against the table and they broke to pieces like glass. He then immersed a common hollow rubber ball in the liquid and afterward threw it on the floor, where it broke into pieces.

BURNS CARBON.

He partially immersed in a common tumbler filled with liquid air a stick of carbon, like those used in the light, and the part of the carbon above the surface burned rapidly with a white light as intense as that of an arc lamp. He explained that a temperature of 1,000 degrees above zero was required to burn carbon, yet this air at 312 degrees below zero burned it rapidly. He interested the audience by holding a piece of the same class of the end of a coiled watch spring, and it burned rapidly and threw off a shower of sparks until the entire spring was consumed.

Mr. Tripler explained that alcohol freezes at a temperature of 202 below zero, and he accordingly took a pint of whisky and, pouring liquid air over it, soon had it in a state so that he broke it up into small chunks and passed it around to the audience.

Mercury freezes at 40 degrees below zero. The inventor froze a chunk of it in the shape of a hammer and drove a nail into the head with a hammer. The audience was then shown the hammer pieces which had been frozen. This hammer afterward circulated through the audience for half an hour without melting though it gradually accumulated a frost on the outside.

Mr. Tripler dipped several Irish potatoes into the can of air, and then threw them on the floor, and they broke into pieces like china eggs. The pieces were picked up for souvenirs, but were found to be so cold that they were uncomfortable to keep.

They were extremely hard and could be carved with a tenknife like boxwood. They circulated rapidly through the audience, each person being apparently anxious to pass them on to his neighbor.

A piece of raw beef was immersed in the air and taken out pure and white and hard as ivory. Thrown on the floor it broke into pieces. Several persons having picked these up as souvenirs, Mr.
Tripler warned them that in a few minutes after the cold had passed away the beautiful white substance would return to red again and would become an uncomfortable keepsake.

A cake of ice was placed on the table and Mr. Tripler placed a small can of liquid filled with liquid air. He then placed the tin kettle over a gas flame and it quit boiling, and a thick coating of ice formed on the outside and was afterward broken off with a mallet.

LEAVES FLOOR DRY.

Mr. Tripler threw a dipperful of air over his clothing, and it left them perfectly dry, and a finger dipped into the liquid would be withdrawn dry, but uncomfortably cold. A quantity of the air thrown on the floor made a heavy sound like melted lead. The liquid scattered in all directions, throwing off a gray vapor and being rapidly consumed. It left the floor dry.

Mr. Tripler said that he had received letters from scientific men all over the United States questioning his statement in a recent number of McClure's Magazine, to the effect that he could produce liquid air with liquid air; that is, with a start of two gallons of the substance he could go on producing any quantity of the air for any length of time. The inventor said that though this assertion had been questioned by scientists from Harvard College and from several other eminent institutions of learning it was literally true, and was demonstrated daily in his laboratory. He said that it was strange that these scientists were not surprised when, with a few gallons of ammonia, a large ice factory was kept in operation. He said that he had actually made 10 gallons of liquid air in his laboratory by the use of about three gallons in his engine, a surplusage that would go on indefinitely.

The inventor's theory is that liquid air at 312 degrees below zero, being warmed by contact with the atmosphere, throws off a vapor or steam which, if confined, could be made to operate any engine now operating and by steam.

He held up a glass of the liquid when he dismissed his audience to night and remarked that if the small quantity of liquid at 312 degrees that he held in his hand were warmed 100 degrees—that is to 212 below zero—it would throw off a force that, if confined, would operate a 1,000-horse power engine. The inventor said that he proposed not only to utilize liquid air in place of the water now used in boilers, but that he proposed to heat the air with the natural atmosphere, thus operating engines without water or fuel.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT.

Reports were received this month from 161 correspondents, representing 104 counties.

WHEAT.

The absence of growing weather during the month of March has left the solution of the fate of the late wheat to the future. The condition of early wheat is still reported excellent, and in a few counties, where the major portion of the crop was sown early, the prospect for a full average crop is good.
A number of correspondents report that the acreage will surely be reduced by plowing up and sowing to other crops. We would advise that ample time be given for development before reporting to this measure. All vegetation is fully one month late, and the prospect should be judged accordingly.
The condition April 1st averages 77 as compared with normal years, a loss of three points since March 1st. The average condition on this date for the last three years has been as follows: 1898, 101; 1897, 91; 1896, 69.

The western section shows in the central section the average condition is 75; in the eastern the condition is 83.
The condition in the western section has suffered a loss of 1 point since March 1st; the central a loss of 7 points and the eastern a loss of 3 points.

OTHER CROPS.

Out sowing is hardly begun in a majority of the counties, and for this reason no attempt is made at an estimate of the acreage. A few counties report about one-half of the acreage sown in the mud, but the late and sowing of tobacco plant beds is likewise much delayed. Very few growers have planted above ground at this date. Clover has wintered fairly well, a portion of the old clover only being frozen out.
Pastures have made no growth worth naming up to the present.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The number of spring lambs, compared with the number in 1898, is 57 per cent, the loss being probably the heaviest ever sustained. The absence of the usual amount of grazing at this season causes a further loss in nutrition. The character of the winter has been opposed to a thrifty condition of sheep, and the loss of old has been correspondingly heavy. The loss from ravages of dogs is slight, averaging a little less than 5 per cent.

FRUIT PROSPECTS.

Owing to the backward season the development of fruit buds is not sufficiently advanced to judge accurately the fruit prospects. There appears to be no doubt that the peach crop will be a total failure. Many of the peach trees also are dead. The heavy rains and constant cloudy weather have been exactly suited to enable both fruit and forest trees to recover from the effects of the terrible freeze during the month of February. The condition of fruit, as far as present development shows, averages as follows: Apples, 82; peaches, 10; pears, 41; cherries, 49; grapes, 75; strawberries, 45.

A QUEER CALENDAR COMPLICATION.

Thomas Jefferson Was Not Born On April 13th, The Day Set For His Birthday Dinners.

There will be many dinners in honor of Thomas Jefferson, April 13th. Yet he was not born on that day. He was born on April 2nd, 1743, old style, but owing to the new style of time computation beginning with the introduction of the Gregorian Calendar, 1752, at which time the Equinox had retrograded eleven days since the Council of Nice in A. D. 725, when the festival of Easter was established and the equinox occurred on March 21, the dates of anniversaries originating prior to Pope Gregory's Calendar are determined by adding eleven days, hence Thomas Jefferson's birthday is properly observed on April 13th. This interesting fact is pointed out on pages 24 and 25 of the New York World Almanac a most interesting statistical book of over 600 pages. That newspaper offers to

HOW TO COOK A HUSBAND.

(Union Herald.)

A good many husbands are utterly spoiled by mismanagement. Some women are about as if their husbands were bladders, and blow them up.
Others let them freeze by their careles-ness and indifference. Some keep them in a stew, by irritating ways and words; others roast them; some keep them in a pickle all their lives. It can not be supposed that any husband will be tender and good, managed in this way, but they are really delicious when properly treated. In selecting your husband, you should not be guided by the silvery appearance as in buying meat, nor by the golden tint, as if wanting a salmon. Be sure you select him yourself, as tastes differ. Do not go to market for him, as the best is always brought to your door. It is far better to have none, unless you will patiently learn to cook him. A preserving kettle of the finest porcelain is best; but if you have nothing but an earthenware pickle, it will do, with care. See that the linen in which you wash him is nicely washed and mended, with the required number of buttons and things tightly sewed on. The him with a cord called comfort, as the one called duty is apt to be vinegar and pepper on any account. A little spice improves him, but it must be used with judgment. Do not stick any sharp instrument into him to see if he is becoming tender. stir him gently, watching the white lest he lie too flat and close to the kettle and no vinegar needed. You cannot fail to know when he is done.
If thus treated you will find him very relishable, agreeing nicely with you and the children, and he will keep as long as you wish, unless you become careless, and set him in too cold a place.
Put this in your scrap book.

A STARTLING PROPHECY.

Mile Consonda, a French prophetess who claims to be the accredited mouth-piece of the Archangel Gabriel, predicts all kinds of strange things for the United States.

She says that war will come.
Again it will come.

"I see a great day coming" she continues, "a great day for America; all America, North and South, under one government, will be united.

"War will not wage to bring this about."

"Mexico will ask for admission to the United States after the death of President Diaz, and it will be granted."

THERE were two kinds of Democratic dinners in New York last week. A dinner where congenial spirits got together for the fun of the thing and regardless of the cost, and dinners where serious and patriotic men and women gathered together to discuss the interests of the people, the future of the country, and the prospects of their party. Which of these dinners did Mr. Bryan attend? Which would you have attended?

Miss Kathleen Poyntz has been notified by Capt. John Boyd of her appointment as a maid of honor of the Ky. Div. U. C. V. Miss Poyntz is the lovely daughter of Brigadier General J. M. Poyntz, U. C. V.

Mr. Chas. D. Miller returned from Irvine on Saturday, and the improved typography of the CLIMAX is largely due to his style, speed and recent cooperation from exhaustive labor on this paper. He went hunting every day at the Irvine post office, for a letter from his New Orleans girl, and was seriously put out with the single daily mail service between Irvine and the Crescent City. By returning to Richmond he hears from Miss — by every train, N. Y. & E. and W. also H. & W. C.

Prof. Van Norman entertained the Prandial Club on Tuesday night. The subject of discussion was the Electric System For The Judiciary, led by President Paxton in a strong speech against that method. At ten o'clock the members and guests repaired to Joe's where was spread a very delightful five-course supper, equal to the previous elegant spreads of the club. The next meeting will take place with Dr. Dunn when the Public Ownership of Municipal Franchises will be debated. Four weeks hence the subject will be the Monroe Doctrine.

Over in Lancaster the other night "the boys" had a heap of fun initiating a "student" into a secret order, the name of which I did not learn, but from the "ceremonies" as described by the victim the order must be young and fresh. The victim got mad about the way he was handled and says he was put into a literal fiery furnace, made to stick his head into a stovepipe full of hot and sing "Nearer My God To Thee" was suspended from the ceiling by means of a rope tied to one toe, and innumerable other ways were made to believe that he was having a hot time in the old town that night—Harrodsburg Sayings.

"Only the First Step is Difficult."

The first step in Spring should be to cleanse Nature's house from Winter's accumulations. Hood's Sarsaparilla does this work easily. It is America's Greatest Spring Medicine. It purifies the blood, as millions of people say.

It makes the weak strong, as nervous men and women gladly testify. It cures all blood diseases, as thousands of cured voluntarily write. It is just the medicine for you, as you will gladly say after you have given it a fair trial.

Bad Blood.—Although past 70 years of age I am thoroughly well. It was three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla that made me feel so good. I was suffering from blood poisoning, and it was a real cure. I was suffering from blood poisoning, and it was a real cure. I was suffering from blood poisoning, and it was a real cure.

Running Sores.—After worrying four months I have my children Hood's Sarsaparilla and it cured them of running sores. Hood's Pills cured me of dyspepsia and constipation. Mrs. K. E. THOMAS, 21 Governor St., Annapolis, Md.

Consumptive Cough.—Five years I had a consumptive cough which reduced me to a skeleton. Was advised to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have been well ever since. Mrs. M. B. BOWMAN, Cor. 1st and Chestnut Sts., Jeffersonville, Ind.

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. Edgar Carpenter, of Virginia, will assume the pastorate of the Episcopal church on Sunday morning.

Rev. T. Q. Martin will preach at Mt. Pleasant Christian church on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock before the fourth Sunday and on Sunday at 11 o'clock.

"The Final Perseverance of the Saints" will be the subject of Mr. Smith's lecture at the Presbyterian church, this evening at 7:30.

Rev. Richard French will preach on fifth Saturday and Sunday in this month at Red House—Saturday at night, and Sunday morning and night. Sunday school will be organized on the fifth Sunday.

Rev. Ben L. Smith, of Cincinnati, will conduct the services at the Christian church on Sunday morning, and in the evening will deliver his lecture on Alexander Campbell, to which all are invited.

MARRIED.

Freeman Robinson—Mr. James Freeman and Miss Fannie Robinson were united in marriage by Judge Turpin, last Tuesday.

Smith-Bell—At the residence, in this city, of Mr. W. H. Baxter, brother-in-law of the bride, Mr. Jett R. Smith and Miss Emma W. Bell, of Ford, were married on Sunday afternoon last at 4 p. m. Rev. W. R. Lloyd officiating. The well wished of their friends follow them to their home at Ford.

BIRTHS.

Ross.—To the wife of John Ross, at Cottonburg, a son.

Stearns.—To the wife of the junior editor of the Jessamine Journal, Jas. B. Stearns, on the 12th inst, a son—James VanCleave. May be live long, his influence be great and his character stainless, all the days of his life.

DEATHS.

Goodlett.—On Tuesday, April 11th, 1899, Avie D. Goodlett, at his sister's residence, Mrs. Austin Stone, on the Lancaster pike, age about 19 years.

Rainey.—After recovering sufficiently to be moved from the Infirmary to her home, Mrs. Mary A. Rainey contracted cholera on the trip and died of pneumonia on Saturday at the home of her husband, Fred Rainey, who, with four children, survive. Funeral on Monday in the Gentry burying ground.

Jones.—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rucker, near Waco, on Saturday last, Miss Fannie Jones died of the dread disease, consumption. At a party she attended last winter she was one of the guests of the strong, one of the healthiest, one of the most beautiful and popular. But the invisible angel of death marked her that night for his own, and sent a chilling frost to cut down the young flower ere it had fully blossomed into womanhood. A large circle of friends mourn her death, and cannot be comforted. After a touching ceremony by Rev. Hawes, the interment took place in College Hill Cemetery.

Singleton Gets a Verdict for $5,000.

A Lexington jury on Saturday awarded W. E. Singleton, the ex-Richmond photographer, a verdict of $5,000 damages in his $10,000 suit against Maj. Thos. J. Carson. Last fall the two men had a difficulty over a lady's photograph and Carson struck Singleton with a cane, whereupon Singleton fired at Carson and Carson shot Singleton, severely wounding him. The altercation occurred in Singleton's art gallery, and the case was sensational one, on account of Major Carson's prominence and the fact that his companion, Col. Allen, was slightly wounded by the shot fired at Carson by Singleton.

Republican Convention.

The Republicans of Madison held a long and spirited convention here on Saturday to name delegates to the 3rd District Railroad Convention to be held here Tuesday, May 2. Hon. J. W. Caperton was elected Chairman and Messrs. French Tipton and Charles Rowland Secretaries. The report of the Committee on Resolutions was adopted except its list of delegates, which were not altogether satisfactory to the convention, and it required much time to get up a list to suit the crowd. This was finally done. The resolutions endorsed Protection, Gold Standard, Expansion; endorsed the State administration and Mr. Davidson; endorsed McKinley for re-election. Condemned Democracy from Alpha to Omega, and remain neutral as between the candidates for Railroad Commissioner.

Capt. Smith did not, as is reported, lead the fight for Wood. The only effort made to insinuate, was by Mr. Hogg, for Outlaw.

A feature of the meeting was Judge Tipton's magnificent speech. It was well received and was followed by a speech by Mr. Hogg, for Outlaw.

Centre College is to submit the question and Central University will have the choice of sides. Herbert Bronner and Nat. Lafon will represent Centre College while C. U. will be supported by Messrs. Tadlock and Abbott.
—Death Soon Claimed Him Also.
Dee Goodlet, a young man who attended the late Anna's Stone at the time of his death two weeks ago, was laid low by the same disease on Wednesday night last. He was in good health at the time of Mr. Ballard's death and none would have supposed that he would be called so soon after the departure of his friend. Deceased was only about eighteen years of age, and was a brother of Mr. Theodore Goodlet.
—The Willoughby-Combs Tragedy.
A very deplorable affair was that between Dr. K. B. Combs and Charles Willoughby, at College Hill, last Wednesday, whereby Dr. Combs was badly beaten on the head and Willoughby received a pistol wound from which he died two days later. It is not thought that Dr. Combs' skull is fractured though the cuts from the axelve extend to the bone, and if anysepsis does not set up he will recover. The trouble dates back to last December when Dr. Combs and Mr. Willoughby had a serious misunderstanding. The affair had been amicably settled, it was understood, but unfortunately the matter was revived with the above result.
Dr. Combs is a prominent physician in his locality and is a brother of Hon. W. W. Combs, Mr. Willoughby, who is widely connected and besides a wife leaves several brothers. It was believed yesterday that Dr. Combs, whose condition his physician, Dr. Harris, pronounced unsafe to allow him to be moved yet, will give bond for his appearance.

WE HAVE PLENTY OF COAL.

And can fill orders promptly. Our Pine Knot and Straight Creek Coals can not be excelled. We also handle Hay, Corn, etc. Telephone 21, near R. N. I. & B. Depot. Terms, Strictly Cash. Neff & Williams.
—The best smoker, the Proctor Knott cigar.
—A Cuban Relic.
Mr. J. G. Dunn, of Paint Lick, was presented by a soldier of the U. S. 2d Infantry, Regulars, with a bayonet, such as is used on the modern rifles now in use in the army. The bayonet is really a bowie knife, and was from among a lot that had been used in the Santiago battle. The blood on the blade is as dark as a Spaniard's complexion, and Mr. Dunn was told that it was the genuine gore of a Don.
—The State Bicycle Convention.
We trust that our citizens will sufficiently appreciate the significance of the coming meeting of the State Bicycle Clubs to be held in Richmond some time in June, to encourage the local committees who are engaged in the success of the affair. It is distasteful to refer to the material benefits that accrue to every city where these annual State Meets take place, but it may be necessary to do so to convince some persons that it is to their interest to cooperate with our boys and see that the visitors are properly treated. The only expense, probably, to our citizens will be in the way of premiums, and to furnish them a nice fund must be raised by subscription. Don't turn the gentlemen beggars from your door, because they will bring thither several hundred visiting bicyclists who will remain in our midst three days and, of course, scatter ten times as much money here as we may contribute to the success of the races.

Those sententious proverbs, or old saws, which are used as pretexts to all sorts of laziness, are often very true. Ha like Sassaaparilla advertising in thousands of papers throughout the country, are evidence of a new and original style of display advertising, but pleading effective. The Hood firm is to be congratulated on so cleverly adapting such wisdom as has filtered down through centuries. Another charming thing about this Hood advertising is unique type they are using.

Safe-blowers made a fair haul at Christmas.
I was reading an advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the Worcester Enterprise recently, which leads me to write this. I can truthfully say I never used any remedy equal to it for colds and diarrhoea. I have never had to use more than one or two doses to cure the worst case with myself or children.

"A word to the wise is sufficient" and a word from the wise should be sufficient, but you ask, who are the wise? Those who know. The oft repeated experience of trustworthy persons may be taken for knowledge. Mr. W. M. Terry says Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other in the market. He has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for twelve years; has sold hundreds of bottles of this remedy and nearly all other cough medicines manufactured, which shows conclusively that Chamberlain's is the most satisfactory to the people, and is the best. For Sale by Perry & Thomas. ap19-5m
